

"It Could Be Me. It Could Be You."

Human Trafficking is deceiving, it's a dreadful misdemeanor. Minors are being subjected into this trifling lifestyle filled with compulsory labor and sexual exploitation. The thought of Human Trafficking and how so many children are suffering from it, just gives me such distress. Sometimes I picture myself in their situation. It could be me being treated as a commodity, who's only worth is to be sold off to the highest bidder for their own sexual pleasure. It surprises me that a grown man is willing to pay money to take advantage of a young innocent girl. Little girls are the highest bargain in Sex Trafficking in the world right now, and that scares me because I'm a young innocent girl and I wouldn't want to be put in this situation. The girls that are being forced into this business are in need of our assistance. All over the world girls are being taken advantage of. In San Francisco, human trafficking is a hot spot. I feel more law and enforcement is a necessity in decreasing the rate of how many girls are being inflicted in human trafficking. We, the people should picture ourselves in that situation. It could be you being treated like a piece of meat, a lowlife, or only being useful for sex. It could be your children being harmed by such a horrendous business. Generation after generation are being exposed to this dreadful lifestyle of sexual slavery, forced labor, or sexual exploitation. Human Trafficking is the fastest growing illegitimate industry in the world and it is pulverizing our generation and future generations. It's time to terminate human trafficking altogether, so it won't affect anyone else. It could be me or it could be you.
